FAITH CURE FANATICS.

Cruel Murder of a Fever Stricken Patient by a Gang of Faith Cure Fiends.

Children of the New York Stage Will Fight Gerry in Every Court in the State.

Scientific Testimony as to the Deleterious Effects of Tobacco Chewing.

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., Oct. 17.—The city health officer, Dr. Parker, has directed Coroner Van Deusen to summon a jury to investigate the cause of the death of Lenora Waggener, who died yesterday under suspicious circumstances at her home on Dickinson street. Miss Waggoner was a beautiful young woman, unmarried, and 21 years of age. She had never known a day's illness until she was attacked recently with typhoid fever. Her parents belong to the faith cure set, and instead of calling a physician held family prayers around the bed while the feverish patient tossed in delirium and begged for cooling drinks and potions. As she rapidly grew worse, this fanatical family called in others of the faith cure and more prayers were offered incessantly at the bedside, while not a drop of medicine passed the poor girl's lips. She died in a pitiful way, having been denied medical aid of any kind. Just as she was dying, Dr. Parker heard of the case, called at the house and forced his way into the sick chamber, but it was too late to do anything for the sufferer.

Jaehne's Remarkable Record.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Dressed in a new suit of clothes and with a ticket to New York and $115 in cash in his pocket, ex-Alderman HenryW. Jaehne, once known as the chief of the boodle aldermen, left Sing Sing penitentiary on Saturday a free man. Jaehne was convicted of boodling in connection with the big Broadway surface franchise in May, 1886, just after he had been re-elected to the board of aldermen by an increased majority, and elected vice-president of that body. Jaehne received a sentence of nine years and ten months, and has served six years four months and twenty five days, getting the full benefit of the allowance for good behavior. The brunt of the punishment for the frauds fell upon Jaehne, all the rest of the boodlers escaping save honest John O'Neill, who was pardoned after serving two months' imprisonment. Since being received at the penitentiary Jaehne has been variously employed in the shirt and tobacco departments and the kitchen. For the past year he has been a dishwasher in the hospital kitchen. He was met this morning by his four sons, all bright, strapping young men.

Tramping For a Wager.

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 17.—Mohammed, the "king of tramps," arrived in Denver last night. He was much begrimed with travel. The tramp started on February last from Cincinnati on a wager to walk a thousand miles in 45 days for a thousand dollars on the following conditions:—He was to begin his journey with one copper cent and stay at first class hotels. He was not to beg or borrow, and was to marry on the road a woman he had never met before. On September 18, he married a young woman, a telegraph operator at Ogden. He lost three days by falling through a trestle; this time has been added to the limit, which expires on March 10 next. He comes from San Francisco, and is now 500 miles ahead of his schedule time.

Tobacco Chewing and Health.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 17.—Dr. Francis Dowling of this city, after a year of assiduous labor, has prepared a report upon the effects of tobacco chewing on the eyes. He made a study of 3000 persons employed in the various tobacco manufactories of this city and embodies with the results in their cases, those of studies made by the doctors in Paris and Berlin. Of the 3000 under observation, a close study was made of 1500, all males, selected at random. He found that 75 per cent. suffered with visional troubles and nearly as many exhibited muscular deterioration. It was also demonstrated that tobacco chewing is far more hurtful than smoking.

Loss of the Bokhara.

HONGKONG, Oct. 17.—The P. & O. steamer Bokhara, from Shanghai, October 8th, for this port is a total wreck on Lard Island, between Formosa and the mainland. Only 23 persons were saved. The loss includes the commander and the greater part of the officers and crew; the number of passengers is not known. She carried mails and these are lost. Her experience was terrible. Nothing could be done with the vessel in the fierce and shifting winds.

Will Fight Mr. Gerry.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The children of the stage met this afternoon and formally organized an anti-Gerry Society. The society is formed for action, and already the children have subscribed money into the treasury and have devised a plan whereby they can raise thousands of dollars to fight for their cause. They propose fighting Mr. Gerry in every court and in the assembly and senate at Albany this winter.

Somewhat Weaker.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Mrs. Harrison slept well last night. She woke somewhat weaker than yesterday. At noon to-day no material change was perceptible in her condition. The physicians are more hopeful.

Robbery Caused the Murder.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Oct. 17.—Early last evening Mr. and Mrs. John Geyer, both over 60, were beaten to death with a club in the hands of an Indian, at their home near Otay, this county. The Indian has been arrested. It is supposed that robbery was the cause.

Favored the Democrats.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Oct. 17.—The United States Supreme Court has affirmed the ruling of the state court of Michigan in a case involving the constitutionality of the Miner election law. This decision is in favor of the Democrats.

NEW WESTMINSTER NEWS

Burglars Get the Benefit of the Law—Rugby Footballers.

NEW WESTMINSTER, Oct. 17.—Thos. Bell, convicted of burglary at Vancouver, came up for sentence this morning before Judge Bole, who sentenced him to three years in the penitentiary. McDonald, a boy of 15, also convicted with Bell, was sentenced to three months in jail and five years in the reformatory at Victoria. McDonald, for burglary at Yale hotel, got six months. McMillan, for maiming cattle at Langley, seven months from date of conviction.

A junior rugby club is being organized. The seniors will play Victoria at the capital on Nov. 10th. They play Vancouver on Saturday.

THE ROOT OF ALL EVIL.

Great Talk at Vancouver Over the Y. M. C. A.'s Action—Richmond's Wrangle.

VANCOUVER, Oct. 17.—The fact that the Y.M.C.A. openly charged a 25 cent entrance fee to a free lecture delivered by Robert Nourse in the Imperial opera house on Sunday night, is the one topic of conversation to-day. The desire to recoup themselves for the loss on Friday's lecture led the association to seize the golden opportunity offered by the people being at leisure on Sunday night. There was nothing of a religious nature in the lecture.

The Bank of B.N.A. refused to honor the check signed by Councillor Kidd, of Richmond, in accordance with the resolution of the council of October 8th, and on Saturday Sheriff Armstrong was preparing to seize the books of the municipality and strike a special rate to satisfy a judgment given in favor of a Chinaman which had been acceded to by such check. To avoid litigation the bank finally honored the check and the legality of the council's action remains to be tested.

NANAIMO NOTES.

The Suspects Not Yet Released—St. George's Society at Church

NANAIMO, Oct. 16.—The release of the suspects, which was to have taken place yesterday, has been delayed until Wednesday, owing to Dr. Rice suddenly resigning his position on Saturday night. There is no sickness prevailing among them, but Dr. Walkem deemed it advisable not to release them yesterday. Those quarantined have had a good time and have made the best of their position. Three of the guards came into town last night, and one of them stated the families little care how long they are kept there as long as they receive the present good treatment.

The Sons of St. George marched in a body to St. Paul's church yesterday morning to hear Canon Good preach a memorial sermon on the death of the late J. C. Hardy, who was a prominent member of the society. The members were adorned with full regalia.

The "five acre" blocks are now presenting quite an agricultural appearance, and Mr. S. M. Robins, in conjunction with the jail officials, have had considerable work done this summer in improving the roads, so that the residents may be encourage to go on with the work of improvement. The company have now about 100 acres cleared beyod the "five acre" blocks, and placed under cultivation, and a large force of men is continually engaged in clearing another 150 acres. It seems it is the intention of the company to prove that farms can be worked to advantage in this district, and next year will probably witness a rich harvest from the land already cleared. Before many years the place will be a very picturesque spot, and many will regret that they allowed the opportunity of acquiring a good piece of land for a home to slip through their fingers.

The Rugby football match which was announced to take place on Saturday between the Rugby team and the town team did not come off, as the latter failed to get together. Two teams were made up on the field and a friendly game was played.

Since the Caledonia Society have had posession of the rooms lately known as the gymnasium, they have shown that a club of the kind can be run with success in Nanaimo. The members are endeavoring to form an amateur athletic association, and there is every person to believe they will be successful, as there are a large number of athletes residing in this city, not to mention the rising generation. A meeting will be held to consider the proposition.

Union Theological Seminary Will Support the Noted Presbyterian Divine.

A Telegraph Operator Makes an Attempt to Raise Cain—Loss of the Bokhara.

An ex-Alderman Publicly Says, "We Are Catholics First, Americans Afterwards."

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—A statement made to-day by E. M. Kingsley, secretary of the board of directors of the Union Theological Seminary, is to the effect that the institution charter does not allow the directors to delegate their powers to another body, and that the seminary will stand by Dr. Briggs and support him, regardless of the result of his trial, as long as he retains his present position on theological points.

"Hurrah for Harrison, Ruth."

GREENWICH, Conn., Oct. 17.—During the several visits that ex-President Cleveland has made here this summer, he has received hundreds of presents from manufacturers of campaign paraphernalia, which gifts are of great variety, and Mr. Cleveland now has a large collection. In many instances the ex-president has been obliged to pay the express charges, but he does so cheerfully. One afternoon recently while Mr. Cleveland was sitting on the verandah of Mr. Benedict's house amusing baby Ruth, an express delivery wagon drove into the yard. The driver took an oval shaped box from the wagon and delivered it to Mr. Cleveland, who, upon opening the box, found a large "Grandfather's hat" with the words painted on the crown in large letters, "There's nothing in it." The members of the Benedict family and Mrs. Cleveland, who were watching the proceedings from the house, remained silent, wondering what the ex-president would do with the prize. Then they saw him march up and down the verandah with a cane on his shoulder and "Grandfather's hat" upon it amusing the baby with, "Hurrah for Harrison, Ruth, hurrah for Harrison."

Catholics First, Americans Afterwards.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—A sensation was caused at the convention of Catholic societies at the Catholic institute, Newark, N. J., yesterday when ex-Alderman John Bruder, of Harrison, spoke upon the question of carrying flags in the Columbus celebration there on Oct. 21st. A motion had been made to permit societies to carry any national flag in the parade, providing that the stars and stripes were allowed to precede all others. The ex-alderman, who is a German, rose, and taking up a position in the centre aisle said, impressively: "We should have the papal flag first. We are Roman Catholics first and Americans afterwards." A deep silence followed, which was absolutely oppressive. It was, however, decided to carry the resolution and permit all societies to carry any flag they wanted, but the American flag should go first.

Too Mean to Live.

LAUREL, Del., Oct. 17.—Ten days ago John Allan, aged 70, died at Bedford, near here, in a freight car, which he purchased for a few dollars. In this hovel he reared a large family and conducted a small store, tobacco and cider being his principal stock-in-trade. After his death a committee to take an inventory of his effects was appointed by the Orphans' Court. They found band and railroad stocks amounting to many thousands of dollars. In an old box was found nearly $20,000 in gold coin. Allan had three daughters, who were compelled to go out at service doing kitchen work.

No Bill Against Mercier.

QUEBEC, Oct. 17.—To-day the grand jury rendered a verdict of "no bill," in the case of the Queen vs. ex-Premier Mercier for malfeasance in office in connection with the Hereford Railroad subsidy. Like the decision rendered in the case of Ernest Pacaud, Mercier's political manager, for bribery in connection with the same deal. The indictment against ex-Provincial Secretary Langelier on like charges will not be presented to the grand jury this term. The ex-premier, however, will have to stand his trial before the court of Queen's Bench.

Audacious Tramps.

PORT JERVIS, N.Y., Oct. 17.—This morning three unknown tramps assaulted a milkman named Ephraim Shay from Sussex County, New Jersey, and robbed him of $200. This daring assault on a prominent street in broad daylight attracted a crowd, and the tramps were hotly pursued to the Delaware river. One of the tramps was shot dead and the others wounded but they succeeded in swimming the river to a small island, where they now are. The island is surrounded by citizens in boats and the tramps will be captured. Great excitement prevails.

Minister Daly Sworn.

OTTAWA, Oct. 17.—At noon to-day Daly was sworn in by Lord Stanley in the Privy Council chamber as Minister of the Interior and Superintendent General of Indian Affairs. Dewdney has not yet been sworn in as Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, although he has received the appointment, as telegraphed to the TIMES last Friday.

The Champion Lacrosse Team.

MONTREAL, Oct. 17.—The gross receipts of Saturday's big lacrosse match amounted to $4,638.45. The expenses were $715.45, leaving $3923 to be divided between the two clubs. The total number of persons present within the gates was a little over 11,000. On Wednesday at Windsor Hall the team will be presented with a banner. The lacrosse sticks and the ball that won the match will be auctioned off to the highest bidder.

The European Wine Crop.

The London Wine Trade Review says: "The year 1892 will not rank as a good year. The yield promises to be exceptionally small, but generally speaking the quality will be good. The extremes of heat and cold rather than disease have caused a diminution in the crop. The scorching of grapes in the claret districts means a small yield of indifferent quality. From Bordeaux it is reported that champagne will be scarce, but of high quality. A similar report respecting Burgundy. The yield of champagne at best will be only one-half of last year's yield, but it will be of excellent quality if the fine weather continues. Our Jerez correspondent expects a rise in the price of the cheaper sherries, the hot weather of August shortening the crop. The Portuguese vintage will be earlier than for several years, and the grapes have a promising appearance. On the Rhine and Moselle the yield will not exceed one-third of the average, but the quality will be good."

Henry Hyatt and Mira Matthews, from Tilsonburg, are under arrest on a charge of horse stealing. The woman is held as a witness for the crown. She is 24 and claims she has been sold twice by Hyatt in order to raise money. On one occasion she was given in exchange for a horse to a man named Lewis Whitehead. Subsequently, however, she got away according to her story and hence the present action against Hyatt.

Had Business with Cain.

DUNKIRK, N.Y., Oct. 17.—John Howell, the night operator in the Nickle Plate railway office, blocked the road on Saturday night, and the yards were jammed on Sunday with freight cars which had been stopped by signal. When the day operator went on duty at 6 a.m. he found a note from Howell, in which the latter said he was tired of work, and he would not come back. Howell, it has been learned, left his office about 11 o'clock, and began drinking. He had been drinking during the evening and boasted that he was going to "raise Cain" with the road before morning. When he left he set the signals against all trains on both tracks, and opened his telegraph keys. It took several hours to clear the yards.

The Vanderbilt Octopus

CINCINNATI, Oct. 17.—A rival of the Connellsville coke region has come into vigorous activity and a combination of interests is joined in one of the greatest industrial schemes this country has known. The McKell Coal Company of Chillicothe, Ohio, recently purchased 30,000 acres of seam coal lands in the New River district of West Virgina, extending from Echo to Sand Cliff, on both sides of Long Creek and towards Raleigh Court House. Hundreds of men are opening shafts at and along the creek and the C. & O. road is building 18 miles of railroad, ten of which is completed for the Coal Company's exclusive use. The McKells have several New Yorkers in the district, and H. C. Law of New York bought 40,000 acres adjoining the McKell lands. On the opposite side a New York syndicate, represented by Drexel, Morgan & Co., bought another 40,000 acres. Another syndicate in which Messrs. Ingalls, Green and others are interested purchased 40,000 acres on the Gauley river and the C. & O. road are building twenty miles of railroad to accommodate them. Several smaller firms have bought 500 to 5000 acres. It is safe to say the Vanderbilts are interested in the whole business, and that the Chesapeake and Ohio will reap the benefit. By January 1st it is proposed to have 4000 coke ovens in operation.

ON AN ENORMOUS SCALE.

Preparations for the Opening of the World's Fair Eclipses All Records.

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—A small army of workmen is busily engaged to-day in providing seating accommodations in the manufacturers' building upon the World's Fair grounds preparatory to the dedication exercises of Friday next. Fifteen thousand seats are being placed on the main floor of the building immediately in front and on either side of the speaker's splatform. These are being divided into sections, and here will be seated the members of the state World's Fair boards, the wives of the distinguished guests upon the platform, and the staffs of governors, secretaries and attaches of foreign diplomats. Surrounding this space and still on the main floor a number of men are working with might and main placing 55,000 thousand chairs. These are for the stockholders and others and will be neither numbered nor reserved. Up in the gallery still another detail of workmen are putting in place some 15,000 seats. The stage on the east side of the building for distinguished guests is nearly ready for the decorators. Special attention has been paid to its strength and stability, and the supports have been very carefully examined. Upon this stage will be seated the President and the members of the Cabinet, the representatives of foreign nations, the governors of the various states, the members theof senate and the house of representatives, the board of lady managers, and the World's Fair directors to a total of about 3000. To the right and left of this stage space has been railed off for 750 working newspaper men, and adjacent thereto accommodations have been provided for 1200 more, making a total of 2000 representatives of the press. Away in the south end of the building a stage has being erected for the orchestra of three hundred pieces and the chorus of five thousand voices. There will be standing room for fifty thousand people and seating accommodation for one hundred and twenty thousand more, while it is calculated that probably thirty thousand additional will be able to obtain admission to the grounds either over the fences or on one pretext or another. Altogether it is anticipated that the exercises will be witnessed by an audience aggregating one fifth of a million. The building has three hundred exits, while the narrowest aisle is twelve feet in width, and running upwards to twenty feet. Around the corridors are collonades surrounding the main body of the hall, and United States troops with drawn bayonets will be stationed here at a distance of two feet apart in order to inspire confidence in the event of a panic.

The Record Broken

Capt. J. G. Cox and Richard Hall are two truthful gentlemen. Saturday they visited Shawnigan Lake in quest of trout. They did not land one, and on their return they told the honest truth about it. HONORED BY THE CHURCH.

Special Services in American Roman Catholic Churches Honoring Columbus.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 17.—Throughout the United States special Columbian ceremonies, including the mass of the blessed Trinity, were held yesterday in the churches of the Roman Catholic denomination. The observance was in response to a proclamation recently issued by Gardinal Gibbons, and which, although addressed only to the clergy and laity of this archdiocese, was intended to apply to the entire country. The proclamation was as follows:—

"Attention has already in various ways been called to the approaching Columbian celebration. When it is thus proposed to commemorate the fourth centennary of the discovery of this vast country of ours, no one can well avoid entering heart and soul into those festivities. As patriotic citizens of this most glorious and free of the republics and governments of the new world we can most readily appreciate the benefits that have from this discovery acrued to the civilization and betterment of the human family. Here liberty, so long enthralled beyond the seas, has found a congenial home. Here has been afforded the spectacle of a nation which enjoys freedom without license and authority without despotism; the purest democracy allied with a stable government. Peace and happiness, as far perhaps as is attainable on earth, result from most favorable conditions. Climate, soil, vegetation, and mineral products found in almost endless variety and profusion, all conspire to make our country the most desirable in the world.

"Nor can we forget to note, with a love for our religion as strong and as true as that for our country, the magnificent expansion God has been pleased to grant the church, and how sturdily, how beautifully, this flower of faith has grown, untrammeled under the benign influence of our republican institutions. At the birth of this continent on the world's vision our fathers came bearing the cross of Christ and the torch of enlightenment, waving the banner of liberty and sowing the seeds of commerce and religion.

"In the civilization of the country and the perpetuation of its benefits they have taken a prominent and decisive part and have joined heart and hand with their fellow citizens, irrespective of creed. They have aided in exploring and in colonizing and in developing its resources. They have spent their life's energies towards its prosperity and many their life's blood in defense of its liberties. Moreover the glory of the discoverer is our glory. He was born and reared in the Catholic faith, which he illuminated by his virtues and ornamented by his indefatigable zeal and conspicuous intellect. As Christians Europe gave praise to God when this continent was revealed to her, so now it is meet that Christian America, whose children are the chief beneficiaries of the discovery, should commemorate the 400th anniversary of the event by hymns of thanksgiving and public festivities. And as ours is the most favored nation of the American continent, it should be our privilege as well as our duty to set a general example of enthusiasm to our sister commonwealths, and to surpass them as much by our civil and religious demonstrations as we excel them in wealth and material prosperity. Availing ourselves of the option of dates left us by the holy father, we order that on Sunday, October 16th, the mass of the Blessed Trinity be solemnly celebrated in the cathedral with a sermon appropriate to the occasion, the divine service to conclude with a Te Deum in thanksgiving to God for the blessings we are to commemorate. We request that on the same day similar services be held as far as practicable in all the churches of the archdiocese.

"Finally, that we may be heartily in accord with the President, who has appointed the 21st as the national holiday, we desire that each parish do its utmost to have a creditable display in the grand procession which will take place on the night of this latter date. We are confident that both the reverend clergy and the laity will correspond with our wishes and our hopes, and in a spirit of deep patriotism and heartfelt gratitude to the All good and All-wise will celebrate the days in a manner worthy of their faith and of their devotion to their beloved country."

Mr. Chas. N. Hauer

Of Frederick, Md., suffered terribly for over ten years with abscesses and running sores on his left leg. He wasted away, grew weak and thin, and was obliged to use a cane and crutch. Everything which could be thought of was done without good result, until he began taking

The Sealers Have Not Had a Successful Year's Work.

All the sealing schooners with the exception of the Maggie Mac and those seized by the Russians, are now in the harbor. Their catch has not been a good one, and many owners will lose on this season's labors. The result of the season's work is set forth in the following statement obtained at the Custom house:—

In addition to the above, 3381 skins were brought here by American schooners.

CITY POLICE COURT.

A Naval Deserter Goes to Jail—Gunners Bagged at Beacon Hill.

Magistrate Macrae, as is his wont, entered the courtroom at the last stroke of ten of the townhall bell.

J. L. Saunders was drunk. Saunders turned out to be W. P. Bow. Bow was a bluejacket, and his name was upon his cap. Chief Shepperd withdrew the charge of drunkenness and preferred another of desertion from the British navy. Chief Shepperd showed a paper given him, upon which appeared the name of Bow, among many others. The magistrate said that did not prove desertion. Chief Shepperd said that Bow was found in civilian clothes, and that wearing citizen dress was in itself desertion. The statute provided for that. Magistrate Macrae did not think so. The case was adjourned for half an hour and the warrant for Bow's arrest was brought from the provincial police office.

Constable Walker said that he arrested Bow on Yates street. Bow claimed to be an American bluejacket.

Bow protested to the court that he was not a deserter. His leave of absence from his vessel did not expire till Thursday last. It required a ten days' absence to constitute desertion. He would plead guilty to being absent without leave. Bow was committed to jail till the naval authorities claimed him.

Peter Jamieson pleaded not guilty to the charge of not paying the wages of Henry Janson. Jamieson charged Janson with turning in 75 cents for one night when the restaurant had been full. Jamieson also charged that Janson carried wines up stairs to people not the best as to repute.

Jamieson swore that he engaged Janson at $30 a month, board and washing. Room rent was not included. Janson said it was. Case adjourned till Tuesday.

James Deane, drunk, did not appear. He has put up $10. The bail was forfeited.

Cockeye Young, an Indian, and Emily, klootchman, drunk, each contributed $5 to the city funds.

Joseph Martin fired off a shotgun on Beacon Hill. Martin said he did not know that he was doing wrong. He was only practicing. No one was around. Fined, $3.

William Winger, aged 13, also fired a shotgun. Fined $3.

Jos. G. Winger had an air gun. Joseph denied the charge. He only pointed the gun. Case dismissed.

CHINESE LOTTERIES.

TO THE EDITOR:—In my last communication a typographical error made me say that the Mongol horde of lottery sharps "deserve" immunity from prosecution and suppression. Now nothing could be further from the truth. They really deserve extermination. It should have been printed "desire." The lottery men are now serene in official assurances that it will be made very easy for them if the police are compelled by public opinion to make a show of doing their duty in regard to their illegal doings. "Boodle is mighty and will prevail," according to the gamblers' revised perversion, and we can see it verified on every hand. The way this crowd of human parasites have been allowed to fatten on the gullibility of our local dunderheads, is utterly shameful, and as long as the local press "sleeps" on the matter, this disgraceful state of affairs will be maintained. Why should our fellow citizens, who are keepers of sinks of iniquity, be discriminated against by the municipal authorities? The saloons of our city must be securely locked against all comers during the hours of Sabbath rest, according to law, but the Chinese lottery dealers can keep open doors at all hours on Sunday, as on other days.

J. P. COOPER.

"POOR JOEY."

TO THE EDITOR:—The Colonist gives full prominence to the newsboy's tale of woe in Sunday's paper, without investigating the infamous charge laid against me, which is a mass of falsehoods from beginning to end. "Poor Joey," who sells the Victoria TIMES, is not four years old but six years old; not puny but a fine robust healthy boy, and I do not remember him having very much sickness from his birth. People that know him will verify my statements. "Poor Joey"—whom many parents would be proud to own. I do not flog my children; I do not believe in it, kindness guided by intelligence will be the only ruling for my children. If my eldest boy whips him it is the first I have heard of it, and it is more in play than in anger. They are the best of friends. I fail to see how "poor Joey" could have been in the Oriental Hotel a few minutes after ten o'clock when by the kindness of a gentleman the two boys were placed in the 9:30 car with two bits worth of fruit, the gentleman at the time buying five papers; and the boys were in my house at ten minutes to ten, happy and contented, and I failed to see that "poer Joey" had been in such a bad condition a short time before. I have four children, aged respectfully, four, six, eight and thirteen, well fed, shod and clothed and I challenge anyone in Victoria to say different. If people were to investigate before they rush into print, it would be more to their credit. More will be heard of this. When my cnaracter is defamed I do not let the matter drop till full reparation is made. W. G. EDEN,

Reilly Returns.

George Reilly, who had been missing since last Tuesday, arrived home Saturday evening. He says he was driven over to San Juan Island by a storm, and then went to Henry Island. Capt. Butler of the steamer Joan says he saw Reilly out in the Gulf and offered to pick him up, but Reilly refused, saying he was going to the American side.

There Was no Performance.

The Junior Partner Company did not play at the Victoria Theatre on Saturday night principally owing to the late arrival of the steamer from Vancouver. The Yosemite waited at Vancouver for the delayed express. The manager of the company telegraphed Mr. Cort saying the company would be on the stage ten minutes after the boat reached Victoria, and to so inform the audience. Coming down on the steamer the whole company made ready to go upon the stage without a moment's delay. But the audience did not wait, and there was no performance. The company will return here after their Portland engagement.

READ! 'TWILL INTEREST YOU.

To sell two Suits of Clothing for every one I've sold before is a task I've set myself to perform this season. It looked almost hopeless, but I rolled up my sleeves and went at it. I'm glad to say that so far I've not only GOT THERE, but am past the mark and almost up to THREE TO ONE. Of course in doing this: FIRST—I had to chop the head off exorbitant prices and at the same time give the very best in the market for the least money. Industry, economy and strict attention to "Biz" were also great factors; but the chief one was the CHOICE SELECTION OF MATERIALS shown, combined with CLOSE PRICES. Such as:

English Serge and Tweed Suitings, $32, $35, $37.
Scotch Cheviots and Bannockburns, $25, $28, $30, $32, $35.
Irish Tweeds and Serges, $28, $30, $33, $36, $39.
Trouserings from $5 up.

I can easily make a reduction of from $1 to $4 50 on above suit quotations were I to use inferior trimmings or poor workmanship. This I've determined not to do. No, No! None of that on my plate, as I've had a hard pull to get my reputation where it stands to-day for HIGH CLASS and CLEAN, HONEST WORK. My order book is beginning to get belly-fat, and as I will not turn out, under any circumstances, slovenly, ill-made or bad-fitting garments, it is necessary for those gentlemen who require a Winter Suit to place their orders now, as I always go for my work in rotation as it comes in.

NO. 173.

A BY-LAW

TO ENABLE the Corporation of the City of Victoria to borrow the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars for the purposes therein set forth.

Whereas it is necessary that the streets and sidewalks should be maintained and bridges improved and constructed, and whereas an insufficient sum of the present year's unexpended revenue is at this time available for such work, it is therefore deemed expedient to raise a sum of money for the above purposes.

And whereas for the purposes aforesaid it is intended to raise by way of loan upon the credit of the city the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars.

And whereas it will require the sum of $1,289.00 to be raised annually by special rate for the payment of the debt and interest as hereinafter mentioned.

And whereas the amount of the whole rateable property of the said Corporation of the City of Victoria according to the revised assessment roll, for the year 1891, was $17,553,148.

And whereas it will require an annual special rate of 3-40th of a mill in the dollar for the payment of the interest and the creating an equal yearly sinking fund for paying the principal of the said interest debt, according to the Municipal Act, 1892.

And whereas it is intended to reduce the general rate so that the said Special rate shall not increase the total rate of taxation.

Be it therefore enacted by the Corporation of the City of Victoria as follows:

SECTION 1.—It shall be lawful for the Mayor of the Corporation of the City of Victoria to borrow upon the credit of the said Corporation, by way of the debentures hereinafter mentioned, from any person or persons, body or bodies corporate who may be willing to advance the same as a loan, a sum of money not exceeding in the whole the sum of $25,000.00 currency, or sterling money at the rate of $4.86 2-3rds dollars to the one pound sterling, and to cause all such sums so raised or received to be paid into the hands of the Treasurer of the said Corporation for the purpose and with the object hereinbefore recited.

SECTION 2.—It shall be lawful for the said Mayor to cause any number of debentures to be made for such sums as may be required, not exceeding, however, the sum of $25,000.00 either in currency or sterling money (at the rate of $4.86 2-3 dollars to the one pound sterling) as may be required, each of the said debentures being of the amount of $1,000 or its sterling equivalent at the rate aforesaid, and all such debentures shall be sealed with the seal of the said Corporation and signed by the Mayor thereof.

SEC. (3).—The said debentures shall be made payable in fifty years from the date hereinafter mentioned for this By-law to take effect, at the office of the Treasurer of the said Corporation in the City Hall, Victoria, and shall have attached to them coupons for the payment of interest, and the signature of the Mayor or of the Clerk of the Corporation respectively to the coupons may be affixed by printed, stamped or lithographed fac simile.

SECTION 4.—The said debentures shall bear interest at the rate of 4½ per cent. per annum from the date thereof, which interest shall be payable half-yearly at the office of the said Treasurer.

SEC. (5). For the purpose of forming a sinking fund for the payment of the said debentures and the interest to become due thereon, an equal special rate of 3-40ths of a mill in the dollar shall in addition to all other rates be levied and collected in each year upon all rateable property within the City of Victoria during the continuance of the said debentures or any of them.

SECTION 6.—This By-law shall before the final passage thereof receive the assent of the electors of the said Corporation in the manner provided for by the Municipal Act, 1892, and shall take effect on the 14th day of October, 1892.

SECTION 7.—This By-law may be cited as the "Street Loan By-Law, 1892."

Passed the Municipal Council this 28th day of September, 1892.

Received the assent of and confirmed by the Municipal Electors on the 11th day of October, 1892.

Reconsidered, adopted and finally passed the Municipal Council on the 12th day of October, A.D. 1892.

NOTICE.

The above is a true copy of a by-law passed by the Municipal Council of the City of Victoria on the 12th day of October, 1892, and all persons are hereby required to take notice that anyone desirous of applying to have such by-law or any part thereof quashed, must make his application for that purpose to the Supreme Court within one month next after the publication of this by-law in the British Columbia Gazette, or he will be too late to be heard in that behalf.

Extension of Broad Street to Cormorant by Local Improvement.

Pursuant to section 15 of By-law 170, a by-law to provide for the assessment of real property benefitted by Local Improvements, the following is hereby published, viz:—

CITY HALL, Victoria, Oct. 5, 1892.

His Worship the Mayor and Board of Aldermen.

GENTLEMEN—We, the undersigned, having received a copy of a resolution passed by the Council on the 28th of September, re Broad street extension across lot 1252, block T, have the honor to submit the report and plan attached, in conformity with sections 4 and 5, by-law 170, intituled "A By-law to provide for the assessment of real property benefitted by local improvements."

The following is a description of the real property which in our opinion will be benefitted by the proposed improvement, viz: A portion of the southerly half of Block N., composed of lots 584, 585; east half of 589, 590, 591, 592; the easterly part of 535, 1252 and 1251, Block T.; 657, 658, 659, 660, and part of 661, of the westerly part of Block U.; also 661, 665, 666, 667 and a part of 668, a portion of the easterly part of Block U, also 159a, 160a, 161a, and 162a, a portion of the westerly part of Block 2; also 423, 424, a portion of the easterly part of Block 2; also 164a 165a, 166a, 167a, 168a, 169a, and 170a, and 414, a portion of the westerly part of Block 13; also 406, 413, 416, and 429, a portion of the easterly part of Block 13

2. We consider the proposed improvement will be permanent.

3. The estimate cost of the proposed extension, including right-of-way, removing and making good buildings, grading and macadamizing street, sidewalks, etc., is $12,000, which amount is assessed against the property, that in our opinion is immediately benefited.

4. The proportion in which the assessment is made on the various portions of the real property benefited, is described in detail in the list hereto attached. The real property benefited is shown in red on the plan attached.

Sub-Section D, showing the Proportion on which the Assessment is to be made on the various Lots benefited.

Victoria, October 1, 1892.

EXTRACTS FROM THE "CONSOLIDATED HEALTH BY-LAW.

ACCUMULATION OF FILTH.

No person shall permit or suffer the accumulation, so as to be a nuisance, of any offal, filth, refuse, stagnant water, or other offensive matter or thing upon his premises, or on any vacant lot belonging to him, or for the owner or lessee of which he is the agent.

No person shall place on any land or in or upon any street, road, or highway, any manure or other refuse matter, or any dirt or filth which is, or is likely to become, a nuisance.

No person shall convey or cause to be conveyed through any street, road, or highway, any night-soil, swill, or other filth or offensive matter dangerous to health, between the hours of six in the morning and twelve in the evening, or at any time except in a proper covered cart or vehicle, so as to prevent slopping or spilling.

Every tenant or occupier of a building shall dispose of all animal and vegetable refuse from such building or on the premises occupied therewith, either by burning the same or by placing it in a proper covered receptacle, the contents of which he shall cause to be removed at least once every week.

No person shall throw into, or leave in or upon, any street, court, square, road, lane, alley, wharf, public enclosure, vacant lot, pond, or body of water, any dead animal, dirt, sawdust, soot, ashes, cinders, shavings, hair, shreds, manure, fish shells, waste water or filth of any kind, or any refuse, animal, or vegetable matter whatever.

DRAINAGE AND PRIVIES.

The owner, lessee, agent, or person having the care of any ground, yard, vacant lot, or other property where stagnant water or other nuisance exists, abutting on any street through which a common sewer shall have been constructed shall cause the same to be effectually drained into such common sewer.

The owner, lessee, agent, or occupier of any building or premises used as a dwelling house, hotel, restaurant, saloon, shop, store, office, factory, wash-house, or otherwise, shall furnish the same with a sufficient drain under ground to carry off all waste or foul water or liquid filth; and no such drain shall empty or discharge into or upon any street, road, or highway, or any open drain thereon, unless in the opinion of the Mayor and Council the same shall not be detrimental to the public health.

All vaults and privies shall be made tight, so that the contents thereof cannot escape therefrom, and as remote from any dwelling, well, or water tank as practicable.

OVERCROWDING.

No person shall let or occupy, or suffer to be occupied, as a dwelling or lodging, any room which—

(a.) Does not contain at all times at least 384 cubic feet of space for each person occupying the same;

(b.) Has not a window made to open in a manner approved by the Medical Health Officer or the Sanitary Inspector; or

(c.) Has not appurtenant to it the use of a water-closet, earth closet or privy, constructed in accordance with the by-laws and regulations of the City.

And every room in which a person passes the night, or is found between midnight and five o'clock in the forenoon, shall be deemed to be occupied as a dwelling or lodging within the meaning of this section.

SLAUGHTER-HOUSES.

No person shall erect, open, or use any slaughter-house within the limits of the City of Victoria.

EVENTION OF THE SPREAD OF DISEASE.

Whenever a person suffering from smallpox, cholera, or any other disease of a malignant character dangerous to the public health, is an inmate of any hotel or boarding house, the keeper, or one of the keepers, of such hotel or boarding-house shall immediately give notice thereof to the Medical Health Officer or the Sanitary Inspector, who shall thereupon take such steps as may be deemed necessary to prevent the spread of such disease.

Every medical practitioner attending or visiting any person who is suffering from smallpox, cholera, or any other disease of a maligant character dangerous to the public health, shall immediately give notice thereof to the Medical Health Officer or the Sanitary Inspector, who shall thereupon take such steps as may be deemed necessary to prevent the spread of such disease.

Any officer of the Corporation may seize, and under the direction of the Medical Health Officer, the Mayor or the Sanitary Inspector, destroy any tainted or unwholesome meat, poultry, fish, or other article of food exposed or offered for sale.

PENALTY.

Every person guilty of an infraction of any of the provisions of this by-law shall, upon conviction thereof, in a summary manner, before the Police Magistrate or any two Justices of the Peace having jurisdiction in the City, forfeit and pay a penalty not exceeding fifty dollars, and costs if ordered; and if such penalty, and costs if ordered, be not paid immediately or within such period as such Police Magistrate or Justices may appoint, the same may be levied by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the offender, or such offender may be imprisoned, with or without hard labor, for any term not exceeding three calendar months, unless such penalty, and costs if ordered, be sooner paid.

VERY PLEASANT.

That celebrated interview between the three aldermen and the members of the Government has had worse consequences than the deception of the Vancouver News-Advertiser. The Toronto Mail has also been led astray by it, as witness the following remarks appearing in one of its recent issues:—

In Victoria, B.C., the municipal authorities are according to common parlance, up a tree. Recently the Mayor and aldermen waited on the Provincial Government, and stated that the city was in difficulties from which it could not extricate itself except with help from outside. The sanitary state of the city was depicted as deplorable. The streets are unswept and garbage is accumulating in lanes and yards. To meet its obligations the municipality has been compelled to neglects its sanitation. Having no immediate means of raising money, the authorities in their despair appealed to the Provincial Government for assistance. Help was promised, but the other cities in British Columbia will object to Victoria being singled out for special favors at their expense. The situation is a remarkable one. Victoria is the capital of British Columbia, and thinks it is entitled to assistance on that account. The fear of a plague has added to the alarm, and the state of affairs not unnaturally causes thinking people to ask: Is municipal government a failure?

A very nice thing it is to have the impression thus go abroad that Victoria is not able to help herself, but must run to the Government to find a way out of her difficulties, like a child appealing to its mother. People who are on the ground know that the root of the difficulty lay in the Premier's desire to appear in the role of materfamilias, but those who look on from a distance can hardly be expected to know all the details of the situation. Stories grow as they circulate, so it is not surprising to find the Mail asserting that the "Mayor and Aldermen waited on the Provincial Government" with the tale of woe which it summarizes as above. It is to be assumed that the people of this city have not parted with their self-respect, and therefore there is no need to ask them how they relish being thus represented abroad as a helpless and hopeless lot, without the spirit or the ability to remove difficulties from their own path. This result of the Attorney-General's meddling with municipal affairs affects not only the "Mayor and Aldermen" but every citizen. It is bad enough to have the city hindered and hampered by unexpected burdens, but the situation is made much worse by the creation of an impression in the minds of outsiders that these burdens have hopelessly crushed her. The Attorney-General and the Aldermen who helped his scheme along have reason to be proud of their work.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Montreal Witness:—What Sir John Macdonald and his whole party were trampled in the dust with execrations for doing, twenty years ago, is now done by Sir Adolphe, defended by the Government, and remains unpunished of the country to-day. Fifteen years of constant corruption and degradation have brought Canada down to the level at which she cannot or will not rid herself of insignificant, inefficient servants, who are both ludicrously and hideously corrupt.

Mr. Wayne MacVeagh, who was Attorney-General in Garfield's Cabinet, addressed a great Democratic meeting in Philadelphia on Saturday. He declared that the Republican party had no more faithful supporter than he from 1854 until the present year, his only serious difference with the party being on the question of impeaching President Johnston. He had voted for President Harrison in 1888, but from that day to this the conviction had been steadily growing upon his mind that the general tendency of the Republican party was not only inimical to the best interests of the country, but unless checked, was sure to result, not only in making the poor poorer, but the rich more selfish and corrupt and therefore less patriotic. The Republicans are trying to make light of Mr. McVeagh's defection, but it is a serious enough event for them.

It is not often a Tory paper is found speaking in the tone of this paragraph, which appears in the Montreal Gazette:—

Mr. Campbell, controller of the state of New York, makes the announcement that it is free of debt, having in its treasury a sum sufficient to meet all outstanding but unmatured bonds, and a balance over. During the past ten years New York has paid off its public obligations at the rate of a million a year. A people who have to provide for their public service by direct contributions develop a lively antipathy to a public debt and the burden it implies. These eminent patriarchs, the fathers of Canadian confederation, made one of their mistakes when they agreed to a federal subsidy system, which bred the idea that money could be obtained by the provinces without anybody paying it. The big debts that nobody sees a way of reducing are the result.

Commenting on the decrease of population in Toronto, Kingston and Brantford, as shown by recent assessment returns, the Winnipeg Tribune remarks that "of all the alluring promises held out by Sir John Macdonald, Sir Leonard Lilley, Sir Charles Tupper and the other titled and untitled apostles of protection, not one has been fulfilled. It would be an act of criminal folly to shut our eyes to the state of the country. The fact remains that Canada, a new country possessed of great resources, with all the elements of a great nation, is practically at a standstill." The Tribune further says:—

A Toronto newspaper is throwing open its columns to correspondents on the question, what is the matter with Canada? with the object of devising a remedy. We would answer that the great trouble, so far as the Northwest is concerned, is that we are paying some million of dollars every year in tribute to the favored manufacturers of the east, while we have to sell our wheat in open competition with the producers of the United States, Australia, India and Russia. Remove the intolerable tariff burdens which press so heavily upon us and we will undertake to show a solid and progressive prosperity that will attract the prosperity of the world.

British Columbia will join heartily with Manitoba in supporting this proposition. Give our industries a chance and they will look after their own development.

THE EMPRESS OF INDIA.

One of the Largest Passenger Lists of the Season Taken This Trip.

The steamship Empress of India sailed for Japan and China at noon today with one of the largest passenger lists of the season. She took about 120 saloon passengers and 340 Chinese, bound to their own homes in the Flowery Kingdom. An Indian prince and princess, the Thakore Sahib of Gondal, and the Rani Sahiba of Gondal. They are returning home from a visit to Her Majesty the Queen, who received them at Balmoral Castle. The Queen invested the Rani with the Imperial Order of the Crown of India. They are very interesting passengers, and are accorded every courtesy possible on the steamer.

Another well-known passenger is millionaire J. H. McNabb, of Riverside, Cal., who, with his wife and three daughters, is on a tour of the world. They will see everything in the East and will be back on this continent in time for the opening of the World's Fair next year.

Lord and Lady Braye and sons, of Rugby, England, who have been here for several days past, also took passage.

The Empress has a very good freight for Chinese and Japanese points. The India was scheduled to leave yesterday, but the express was eight hours late, and then the steamer delayed leaving Vancouver until this morning.

The World's Locomotives.

London Iron says: "Of the total number of 109,000 engines which are at present running on the earth's surface, Europe claims 63,000, America 40,000, Asia 3,300, Australia 2,000 and Africa 700 In Europe the kingdom which gave the locomotive birth, viz., Great Britain and Ireland, takes premier position with 17,000 engines; Germany is a good second with 15,000; France is third with 11,000; Austria-Hungary, the second largest continental country, has 5,000; Italy, 4,000; Russia, 3,500; Belgium, 2,000; Holland and Spain, 1,000 each; Switzerland, 900, and the remaining European states, 2,600. The almost simultaneous and rapid, but quite independent, development of the locomotive in Great Britain and the United States has resulted in the adoption of two different systems of steam traction, the respective merits and demerits of which have oft and heatedly been discussed.

Visitors of Note.

Among the arrivals on the Yosemite last evening was the following distinguished party:—Robert Kerr, general freight and passenger agent of the C. P.R; Archibald Baker, European agent of the line; John Ennis, European manager of the Allan line; Thomas Moore, proprietor of the London sporting paper, Land and Water; and H. C. Drinkwater, a London financier. Messrs. Moore and Drinkwater left last evening for Seattle and San Francisco, and will join the others in Montreal on the way home. The remainder of the party are spending a few days in Victoria. Mr. Baker was seen this afternoon by a TIMES man. He says the trip has been a very pleasant one. He has filled his present position for eight years, during which time he has been continuously abroad. He was formerly general superintendent of the Eastern division of the C P.R.

Russell vs. Russell.

The divorce case of Russell vs. Russell, was continued in the Supreme Court to-day before Mr. Justice Crease. Mr. Thornton Fell appeared for Mrs. Russell, the petitioner, and Hon. C. E. Pooley, Q. C., for the defendant. The principle witnesses gave their evidence before the court vacation. The witnesses examined to-day were, Mrs. Durling, Miss E. Thompson and Mrs. Osborne. The case will be continued this evening.

Discussing Public Health.

The Board of Health convened this afternoon in the committee room of the city hall. The session was a long one. The board was still sitting when the TIMES went to press. The questions under consideration were the tenders for the disposal of the city garbage, and also the matter of the continuance of smallpox at the Jubilee hospital.

Had a Good Time.

Messrs. Walter Dowler and Butterfield are back in the city from an extended outing. They cruised among the islands between the mainland and Vancouver Island, visiting all the points of interest. They have many interesting adventures to relate to their friends. Both look brown and hardy after their trip.

The Coquitlam Investigation.

The investigation into the Coquitlam case will probably be begun before United States Consul Myers on Tuesday morning. The case was to have been opened this morning, but the legal men in the case could not arrive in time, there being no boat from Seattle to Victoria Sunday. They will arrive to-night.

All the Evidence in.

The evidence of Mr. Cowie, the last witness in the Pope investigation has been taken by Captain Gaudin. It brought out nothing new at all. The decision will be rendered in the case just as soon as the evidence is written up.

Travelling for Pleasure.

Senator McMillan and Mr. McLennan, of Alexander, Ont., and Major Beatty, of London, Ont., are registered at the Driard. They are travelling for pleasure. The party will remain in the city several days and return by the Canadian Pacific.

Recommissioning at Vancouver.

H. M. S. Hyacinthe will leave for Vancouver to recommission on Sunday next. H. M. S. Daphne left for Vancouver at 11 o'clock this morning. She will recommission at Vancouver and go to the China station.

Back to Business.

Mr. S. Matson, general manager of the Provident Life Insurance Company, has returned from a trip east. He has resumed business and will be found at his old office on Broad street.

THE ROYAL COMMISSION.

The Formal Opening of the Commission at the Supreme Court House this Morning.

The First Witness to be Heard Tomorrow Morning—The Object of the Commission.

The Royal Commission appointed to enquire into provincial health matters met at the Supreme Court house this morning. The commissioners, Sir M. B. Begbie, C.J., and Dr. Praeger took their seats on the bench at 11 o'clock. The secretary, Mr. C. F. Moore, read the commission as follows:

HUGH NELSON.

VICTORIA, by the Grace of God, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and of the Colonies and Dependencies thereof, QUEEN, Defender of the Faith, etc., etc., etc.

To the Honorable Sir Matthew Baillie Begbie, Knight, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of British Columbia; and Emil Arnold Praeger, Esquire, Doctor of Medicine.

Theodore Davie, Attorney-General } Whereas it is provided by section 2 of the "Health Act" that: "It shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council, by any order duly made and passed, from time to time, and at any time, to mark out, define and vary certain portions of the Province to be Health Districts, and to make and alter such rules, regulations and by-laws as such Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council may deem expedient, in respect to the following matters, that is to say:

"(a) The establishment, management and maintenance of Local Boards of Health, their functions and powers.

"(b) The duties and jurisdiction of the Local Boards of Health, in all matters whatsoever in anywise relating to drains, sewers, privies, pigsties, slaughter-houses, unwholesome food, diseased cattle, noxious or offensive trades or business, epidemic, endemic, or contagious diseases or disorders, and for the summary abatement of any nuisance or injury to public health likely to arise therefrom.

"(c) The regulation of the inspection of dwelling houses, curtilages, hospitals, gaols, and other places, and generally to regulate all such other matters and things whatsoever, in relation to or in connection with sanitary matters, which the said Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council shall from time to time deem expedient to ordain.

"(d) Any fines or penalties for the enforcement of the provisions of such by-law, not exceeding in amount the fines and penalties hereinafter provided in case of the evasion of any of the provisions of this act. Provided, always, that the Lieutenant-Governor may make such orders, rules, regulations, and by-laws to apply to certain parts of the province only.

And whereas by reason of a serious outbreak of smallpox in this province our said Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council was pleased to act thereunder and by three several orders-in-council in that behalf, dated respectively July 11th, August 8th and August 22nd, 1892, to make certain rules and regulations;

And whereas as is shown by an order-in-council of our said Lieutenant-Governor dated August 24th, 1892, it has been prima facie established that the said recent epidemic of smallpox was introduced into this province from Asiatic ports by the ships of the Canadian Pacific Railway Steamship Company and that the responsibility for its introduction lies with the authorities to whom is entrusted the promulgation and enforcement of quarantine regulations, and upon this point information is desired by our said Lieutenant-Governor-in-council.

And whereas information is also desired by our said Lieutenant-Governor-in-council respecting the spread and dissemination of the disease in the province and respecting its treatment by the various health boards, municipal authorities, or otherwise in the province and respecting all details of means taken for its prevention and cure, and also respecting preventive measures which may be shewn advisable.

Now know ye, that reposing especial trust in your loyalty, integrity and ability, we do hereby confer upon you the said Sir Matthew Baillie Begbie and Emil Arnold Praeger jointly and each of you separately the power of making inquiry into all and every of the matters aforesaid, to wit:—

(a) The channel and means through which the said epidemic of smallpox was introduced into this province;

(b) Its spread and dissemination in the said province;

(c) Its treatment by health boards, provincial or municipal authorities whatsoever;

(d) Any preventive measures against smallpox or other contagious or infectious disease which the evidence brought before the commission may point to as advisable to be adopted;

(e) Any other circumstances or matters in connection with the epidemic which may be brought before you, and which you may consider it convenient to enter into;

Together with the power of summoning before you or either of you any party or witnesses, and of requiring them to give evidence on oath orally or in writing or on solemn affirmation (if they be parties entitled to affirm in civil matters), and to produce such documents and things as you or either of you may deem requisite to the full investigation of the matters aforesaid, and we empower and direct you the said Commissioners or either of you to report the facts found by you in writing to our Lieutenant-Governor of our said Province of British Columbia immediately or as soon conveniently as may be after you shall have concluded such enquiry, together with the views which you or either of you may have formed in relation to the matters aforesaid as a result of the said enquiry, and that you do and perform all those matters and things in and about the taking of the said enquiry, as by law in that behalf you are authorized to do.

In testimony whereof we have caused these our letters to be made patent and the Great Seal of the Province of British Columbia to be hereunto affixed; Witness, the Honorable Hugh Nelson, Lieutenant-Governor of our said Province of British Columbia, in our said City of Victoria, this sixth of October, in the year of Our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-two, and in the fifty-sixth year of our reign.

By command,
JAMES BAKER,
Provincial Secretary.

The Chief Justice said the commission seemed to have been appointed for two purposes, to find out the origin of the recent smallpox outbreak and the cause of the spread of the disease.

Attorney-General Davie said that the Crown would be represented at the commission by the deputy attorney-general, who would maintain the affirmative as set forth in the commission.

The Chief Justice was of opinion that it was very proper to ascertain the origin of the smallpox outbreak, but he thought it was hardly within the Provincial Government's power. However, the commissioners would enquire and the Attorney-General could deal with the result as far as possible. The other part of the enquiry would be quite interesting. The commissioners would endeavor to find out how the disease spread—whether it was through lack of cleanliness, neglect to vaccinate or isolate. Of course, different people maintained different views on these subjects, therefore the commission would keep both ears open to hear what was said on both sides.

The Attorney-General put in two documents as evidence. One was the report of Health Officer Huntly, of Vancouver, to the provincial health officer, dated August 10th, and the other was the report of Dr. Wade to the Attorney-General, dated July 18th. The Attorney-General said it would possibly be necessary for the commissioners to go to Vancouver to take evidence.

Mr. A. S. Potts having been sworn in as official stenographer, the commission adjourned until to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock.

Sealskins for London.

Two carloads of sealskins were shipped last evening over the Northern Pacific Railway. The shippers were Carne & Munsie and Turner, Beeton & Co. The skins were valued at $60,000.

Bazaar Arrangements.

A meeting of the ladies of St. Andrew's Roman Catholic church was held Sunday afternoon. Arrangements were made for the bazaar to be held Oct. 31st in the old church. The booths were partially allotted.

A Reception.

The visiting clergy who will take part in the dedication of the new Roman Catholic cathedral, will be tendered a reception on the evening of October 31st. It is expected that a hundred prelates and clergy will be in attendance.

Died of Old Age.

August Miller died at the Old People's Home yesterday of old age. The deceased was a native of Limporg, Prussia, aged 64 years. He came to the Pacific coast during the rush for gold and until a few years ago he was a frequent visitor to the various mining camps of Cassiar, Cariboo and California.

Ready for Service.

The organ which was removed from St. Andrew's R. C. pro-cathedral to the new building is in position and has been tuned. Some needed repairs were made, and now the instrument is in very good condition. It sounds very well in the new building, and it will be a long time before a new one is needed.

The Provincial Court.

In the Provincial court this morning the case of Chas. Spring, who is charged with not paying W. Kerer his wages, amounting to $193, came up. Mr. Spring claims that Kerer is asking for much more than is due to him. After hearing the evidence, the magistrates adjourned the case until to-morrow. A similar case, the prosecutor in which is D. Piper, will come up at the same time.

To Raise the Premier.

Tenders are being called for for raising the steamer Premier, now stranded on Bush point, Whidby Island. The tenders are to state separately the cost of placing the steamer in the Esquimalt and the Puget Sound dock, the owners to have the option of naming either place. All the tenders are to be in by Saturday, 22nd inst. Messrs. W. F. Bullen and Thos. Shaw of the Albion Iron Works went over to the Sound last week to see the wreck.

Services Recognized.

The Temple Emanu-El was the scene of a very pleasant affair yesterday morning. After an opening address by Mr. D. Hart, Mr. N. E. Rynard, on behalf of the subscribers, presented Miss Louise Sylvester with a very handsome gold watch, suitably inscribed. Mr. F. Landsberg presented Miss Pauline Franck with a gold chain, also on behalf of the subscribers. The two young ladies are teachers of the Temple Emanu-El Sabbath school, and the presentations were made as an acknowledgment of the efficient work done by them.

The Papal Encyclical.

The encyclical letter of Pope Leo XIII., dealing with the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America by Christopher Columbus, was read at St. Andrew's pro-Cathedral, at High Mass, yesterday morning, by Bishop Lemmens. In accordance with the request of the letter the Bishop announced that a mass of thanksgiving would be solemnized on Friday morning. That day, the 21st inst., is the one upon which the anniversary will be generally observed throughout the United States. The 12th is of course the proper day, but the Pope, at a request from President Harrison, made through Cardinal Gibbons, changed the date especially for the United States. The Pope went still farther and removed the obligation of abstinence for Roman Catholics on that day.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.

The Pastor Discusses His Relations to the Congregation.

The Rev. Mr. Macleod, of St. Andrew's Church, took for the subject of his discourse yesterday morning Titus 2-15: "These things speak and exhort, and rebuke with all authority. Let no man despise you." He said that he had been for 21 years a minister of the gospel and never in that period of time had he found it necessary to make personal references to himself from the pulpit. But the item appearing in the Colonist of last Tuesday morning and the remarks which had been made throughout the week called for some defence to be made by himself. The item referred to was incorrect and if the managers of the church were true to him they would have corrected it. A few lines over the signature of either the chairman of the board of management or the secretary would have put the matter right. The secretary had informed him personally that the item was incorrect, but that gentleman had not seen fit to correct what was a great injustice to him (Mr. Macleod). In saying what he had to state he was not doing so for personal reasons but because he was a minister of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, as well as the pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church of Victoria. The Church at large had an interest in him as one of its ministers and he was not prepared to let things pass as they had been. He had not come to Victoria to gain his reputation as a minister, his success in other parts of the world had been sufficient. If he had done anything wrong the courts of the church were the places in which to make the charges against him, and not behind his back. He knew not who were his friends. How could he deal with these who would stab him in the back and fawn upon him to his face?

He then went on to show what the circumstances were which led to his acceptance of the call tendered him by the church. He quoted several letters sent by friends to him urging him to accept. One from the late Hon. John Robson and the late Rev. Donald Fraser. As well as others from friends interested both in himself and St. Andrew's church, Victoria. He then stated what had been the result of his labors in the church. Whereas the call which was extended to him was signed by only 47, there was now a membership of 350. The church building in which the congregation was worshipping was largely the result of the efforts put forth by himself, and in which he had labored so diligently as to impair his health.

He could not now work, however, with a session who were not loyal to him, with a board of managers who were not loyal to him. In closing his remarks he appealed to the congregation to decide as to what action was to be taken, and if he were to remain as their pastor. He added that the words which he had spoken were all he wished to say, and it was as he thought his duty to put the matter before the people.

Rev. Mr. Macleod was at home when called upon a TIMES reporter to-day. He opened the door himself and stood with his hand upon the knob waiting for the news hunter to speak.

"Would you give a further explanation, Mr. Macleod, of your remarks Sunday morning."

"I have nothing to say for the newspaper. I think that it is a matter between my congregation and myself. A Sunday morning is the most opportune occasion for me to address my congregation. They are then all assembled. It would be difficult to get them together in such large numbers at any other time. Of course, if the newspapers want to make a sensation out of the case, I cannot help it. You cannot get anything further."

The newspaper man told the reverend gentleman that the visit was with the object of obtaining information, so that the case could be placed before the public in an unbiassed manner. He then ventured the query whether it was true that a petition for the removal of Mr. Macleod had been circulated.

"No, sir. It is utterly false. I do not believe that there is such a report. I have been told that there is no report. I should be glad to see the names on the petition if there is one."

"Then you would prove who were firing the bullets?"

Mr. Macleod did not reply. He simply smiled.

"Your remarks do not at all apply personally to any member of your congregation?"

"Certainly not, sir. I made no personal application. Nor were my words intended to have a personal application. I have placed the matter in a proper light before the congregation. It is for them to act."

There will be a meeting of the board of managers of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church this evening, at which matters of importance will be taken up.

At Race Rocks Light.

The Dominion steamer Quadra, Capt. Walban, was down to the Race Rocks light station Saturday afternoon. She delivered the remainder of the coal supply for the station, and moved the new boiler from where it was landed to the boiler house. She returned to her moorings at the custom house wharf on Saturday evening.

The Railway Belt Dispute.

Public notice was given in last Saturday's Canada Gazette that whereas the Government of Canada is entitled to all Crown lands within 20 miles of the Canadian Pacific Railway from the summit of the Rocky Mountains to the statutory terminus of that railway at Port Moody, and whereas the Government of British Columbia has assumed a line proposed by itself, but not agreed to by the Government of Canada, to be the boundary of the railway belt, and has disposed of land accordingly, the public are, therefore, warned that sales of Crown lands made by the Government of British Columbia within 20 miles of the Canadian Pacific Railway are illegal and will not be recognized by the Government of Canada.

A New Map.

J. H. Brownlee is, with the assistance of the best civil engineers and surveyors in the province, preparing an entirely new engraved commercial map of the whole province of British Columbia. The size is 34x45 inches, it is appropriately colored, and it will be ready for delivery about December 1, properly mounted, ready for office use, at the reasonable price of $3 50. The geographical features and lettering are executed in a specially clear manner. Another original feature is a full index to all the names, thereby insuring a ready reference to any particular place, be it town, lake, creek, or camp. All the recent explorations and track surveys are shown, including the work of Dr. Dawson, Messrs. Drewry, McArthur, Ogilvie, Poudrier, Gauvereaux and others. The map is something that is badly needed, and it will no doubt meet a large sale.

Will be Useful.

Capt. Dan McIntosh has ordered a 25-foot, canopy top, naphtha launch from the Pacific Coast naphtha launch company. The launch will carry 25 persons and is to be used for conveying passengers and towing pleasure boats between Victoria and the Gorge. The steamer Gorge, which Dan used during the past season, was very handy, but the naphtha launch will be much cleaner. The new launch will run eight miles an hour.

Practically Demonstrated.

The gentlemen who propose to establish an institute here for the cure of drunkards by the Milen cure are giving a practical demonstration of the system. The patient is said to have recovered his appetite after only a few days' treatment and is doing splendidly. The local gentleman whom Mr. L. C. Roche is seeking to interest in the plan to establish the institute are said to be very well satisfied.

A House Warming.

Jonathan Merryfield, proprietor of the Telegraph hotel, Store street, has issued an invitation to the patrons of the house, past or prospective, to be present at the opening of the new building on Wednesday evening next. The guests will be entertained at supper and a good time generally may be expected.

An Edible Passenger.

Should the Empress of India run short of provisions on this trip out the steward can fall back on a delicacy among the passengers. Its name is Lam Tung. It is a Chinaman from New Westminster going home to the Flowery Kingdom with his wife.

Returned to Victoria.

Mr. H. Innis, who a few months ago was transferred from the Victoria to the Vancouver branch of the bank of B.N.A., has returned to Victoria. His many friends will be pleased to have him amongst them again.

To-Morrow's Sale.

Maps of the McNeill estate to be sold by auction to-morrow at J. P. Davies & Company's auction rooms are now ready. The property is just outside the city limits and surrounds Shore Bay.

To Start an Agency.

The Pacific naptha launch company of Tacoma will start an agency in Victoria next spring. They will keep a number of launches on hand and possibly will have one or two for hire.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS OF ENGLAND.

Winchester College and Its Plebeian Founder, Who Became Chancellor of England.

WINCHESTER, England, Oct. 3.—There is a very rich and eminent man of my acquaintance who in moments of honest confidence often confesses to me that his nostrils are never assailed by the vigorous aroma of boiling cabbage and corned beef that he is not instantly possessed of an almost uncontrollable impulse to bodily assail and drive out his many servant masters, sell his house and belongings, free himself from the abject slavery of his present aristocratic surroundings, fling social distinction and honors to the winds, and at a plunge return to the care free, zestful and humble habits, appetites, gratifications and ways of the old farm home in which he was born.

Similarly with men, when the shadows begin to lengthen, an almost overwhelming heart hunger comes whenever the eyes, turning from the sterner affairs of life, fall upon the faded walls of some old school. It does not matter whether it be a historic spot like Winchester, a treasure house of memories and associations verily interwoven with the best of civilization's making; some modest village seminary, where lads and misses have built their day dreams together, or the little old red country school house you and I used to know, with its tiny blackboard and sheet iron stove, and roundabout ground worn brown and smooth by the coming and going of barefoot children. One is fossilized quite if the heart is not strangely stirred where all these budding hopes have been and are, if the eyes do not mist as the boy you were takes your hand in his and leads you back with him into the sweet young paths again.

All this gentle influence will reach and touch you at Winchester College. There is a grave and stirring charm besides. Its great antiquity alone almost fills you with reverence, for in reality old Winchester is the mother school of all preparatory schools in all English speaking lands. Harrow, Rugby, and even old Eton, under the shadows of Windsor Castle, are all modern in comparison with Winchester. Even Merton College, Oxford, is structurally only about 100 years older, while New College, Oxford, whose founding was the real birth of the English university in its broad sense, was still an afterthought in the inception of the mind which gave England her great university and college system, for Wykeham, the founder of both, simply built the university at Oxford that he might send it those who should be prepared for it at royal Winchester.

This William of Wykeham was an extraordinary man. His career is one of many examples of sturdy plebeian blood having the iron in it to carry its possessor past all bounds of caste or class to the lasting fame of personal achievement. He was born in 1324 in the village of Wickham, near Fareham. His father's name was John, and because of his stature he was nicknamed "Long John." He was as tall and huge a man as the late "Long John" Wentworth, of Chicago. The gigantic figure of his son William looms through the mystery of the time grandly. The lad was educated at the then royal city of Winchester at the expense of Sir John Scures; in 1346 entered the household of Bishop Edyngton, prelate of Winchester; the latter turned him over to King Edward III, and by that King he was at once employed in architectural art. It was Wykeham who built the great tower or "Round Table" of Windsor, which was to be the meeting place of the newly founded order of the Garter.

In 1364 he was made keeper of the Privy Seal, then in 1367 Bishop of Winchester, and the same year he was appointed Chancellor of England. He was for a second time appointed Chancellor, from 1389 to 1391, and the plowboy of Wickham had become virtual ruler of England. Whatever his political or strictly ecclesiastical ability and power, his fame will chiefly rest upon his architectural skill and his educational foundations. He transformed Winchester Cathedral and was national in genius, feeling and purpose. He is regarded as the father of the Perpendicular style of architecture, and his own chantry in the cathedral here, built by himself, is one of the most matchlessly beautiful creations in stone to be found in all Britain. It stands between two pillars in the nave of the cathedral, in the south tier, and curiously enough the great prelate placed his own monument on that part of the cruciform plan of the cathedral which originally exactly corresponded with the pierced side of the Saviour on the Cross.

There is no doubt of Wykeham's piety. He was determined to improve the intellectual and social condition of the clergy. His college was dedicated to the Virgin Mary. Solemn processional entrance was made into the structure at 9 o'clock on the morning of March 26, 1393, a few months less than 500 years ago. The name of every officer, fellow and scholar who took part in that historic ceremony, carefully registered in a vellum book, is still preserved. And the school that "Wykeham's seventy poor scholars" then entered is standing here today just as Bishop Wykeham built it, apparently brave and stout enough to shelter "Wykehamites," as its alumni are proudly called, for another half a thousand years.

Winchester is not only an old school town, but it is an ancient cathedral city and perhaps the oldest city in England. It was "royal Winchester" a thousand years, tradition says, before London was more than a marshy fishing village huddled about the gate of Belin. Ludor Rous Hudibras founded it 892 B. C. So there is antiquity here outside of the flinty walls of the quaint old school. King Rufus is buried here and here St. Swithin lies. Cerdic was crowned in the heathen temple which preceded the cathedral, and the bones of Canute, Wina, Alwin, Stigan and Emma, who trod the heated plowshares unscathed, are gathered in mortuary chests over the side screens of the cathedral choir. But the real Winchester, dear to the hearts of Englishmen, is not the Briton or Roman Winchester, but the city which is represented by the square Norman tower and the ridge of the mighty nave rising above bread masses of foliage and scaled by the graceful tower and turrets of Wykeham College to the south.

The shiny reaches of the Itchen stream show here and there entrancingly. Split up with numerous crystaline threadings, you come upon their vagarous wanderings unexpectedly and always with a sense of surprise and delight. In the bystreets are many curious old nests of homes, little stone pens with tiny windows, heavy overhanging gables, chimneys a fourth as large as the houses, strangely carved casements, low and narrow doors strong enough to withstand a siege; all covered by masses of ivy so packed and dense that they seem like habitations cut out of verdure matted rock.

A maze of illy cobbled streets with narrow pavements crowd toward the old Market Cross on High street. In these are dreamful inns; dark book shops where bargains which would do credit to London East End dickerers are made with college lads for schoolbooks old and new; a few pert drapers' stores; as many jewelers and music dealers, and the inevitable print shops of the cathedral town where sad eyed old folk, who seem to have been left over from Rufus' time, doze over dusty cathedral views; and any number of "sweets" stalls, with endless temptings to the college lad's palate and purse.

Again the ancient city is given color and interest to the stranger by the presence at all times, as in all English provincial towns or sleepy old cathedral cities, of sturdy country folk from roundabout. It is as though a fair or a market had just been held or was about to open. Heavy jowled stock buyers are here. Frocked yeoman look wonderingly into little shop windows as though they held the marvels of Regent street or the Strand. Smocked louts from near hamlets dawdle about the streets, snappy eyed farmers' wives have come, and best of all there are bevies of country-side lasses with all the radiance of English roses in their flaming, peachy cheeks.

In and out of this motley crowd glide the cloaked masters, gently pass deans and deacons, dart the bright faced Wykeham boys, or prance the military; for Winchester is not only a cathedral town, a college town, and the London of Wiltshire for all its thriving county folk and farmers, but it is one of the important military centers of England, being about equidistant from Aldershot, its greatest military station, and Portsmouth, its greatest naval station. It is especially a station for recruits, a depot for ten regiments. Four are of rifles, called the King's Royal Rifles, four from the Rifle Brigade, called the Prince Consort's Own, while two are the Thirty-seventh and Sixty-seventh Territorial Troops.

The building now used as barracks at Winchester was originally intended for a palace by Charles II, who built it for Nell Gwynne, with whom he lived at Winchester, but Charles died before the palace was finished. When the King brought "pretty Nell" to Winchester he begged Ken, then a dignitary in the cathedral and afterward known as Bishop Ken, to accept the fair orange girl as his guest at his house in the cathedral close, but he peremptorily refused. So the King was obliged to take lodgings for Nell in St. Peter street. Charles, however, showed no resentment to Ken, but afterward promoted him to be Bishop of Wells.

The gray old mass of college buildings is reached through the close alongside the cathedral, thence passing into College street under the archway of St. Swithin's church. The outer gate opens directly into a quadrangle, on the east side of which is the warden's residence. From this, through another gateway, called "middle gate," above which is "election chamber," the great quadrangle is entered. Here the whole of the principal offices form one length of about 100 feet. The southern side is formed by the chapel and hall, and the western side chiefly by the kitchen. Beneath the hall, adjoining the great hall staircase, is a passage called "seventh chamber passage." This leads into a lesser quadrangle known as "School Court."

On the south side of this is the school, and the chapel cloisters extend along the eastern side. At the western side are the buildings of the "commoners." These are scholars, not foundation or free scholars. A passage between the school and the cloister walls leads to "the meads." These are the playgrounds of the college. To the west of the meads and divided from it by an ancient wall is the "sickhouse" or hospital, and about this are pleasant grounds locally known as "sickhouse meads." The school can in no degree have the same interest from a modern standpoint as ample Harrow, huge and venerable Eaton or that most beautiful and perfect of all English public schools (the term "public" schools having an entirely different application here from that in our country), the Rugby of Hughes' delicious "Tom Brown," and one instinctively seeks the old, antiquated and curious within these ancient walls.

In the college bursary is an ancient vellum pedigree tracing the descent of King Henry VI from Adam, and the old college plate contains a very fine specimen of a "loving cup" and a curious and very large antique salt cellar, while in the college library are some Saxon charters, and Charters from the Conquest to the reign of Charles II. One of the curiosities of the library is Raleigh's "Briefe Description of the Newe Founde Lande of Virginia." Above the sacristy, at the northeast of the chapel, is as quaint a muniment room as that made famous by Chatterton at Bristol. The original window shutters are incased in iron, and the oaken iron bound chests still contain the ancient deeds and charters of the college. Here also are the traveling cases for the miter of William of Wykeham, the worm eaten lockers for the copes and the curious draws in which the title deeds and bulls were placed, all remaining as they were in the Fourteenth century.

Perhaps the most grotesque carvings are to be found in the Inner or great quadrangle above the windows. They refer to the uses of the several apartments. On the hall and kitchen entrance are the bagpipe and psaltry. Over the kitchen window Excess is represented by a head vomiting. Opposite, as Frugality, is a bursar with his iron bound money chest. And over the masters' windows are the Pedagogue and the Listless Scholar. Some of the hugest fireplaces to be found in England are still in use in the rooms of "collagers" and "commoners." The great hall is as old an old jumble of stone, carved oak and colored glass as the ancient guild hall of Coventry; the cryptlike beer cellar is still devoted to its olden inspiring uses, and "fagging," that relic of mediæval college day barbarism, still flourishes in this venerable school.

There are nearly 500 boys at Winchester College. I have seen them "in hall," at chapel, in cloisters, at "a hot" in football, and in nearly all their various moods and duties of everyday college life; but the time when their forms, faces and voices most thrill my own old boy's heart is when, the year's work all done, they gather in the pleasant meads and pour forth their home longings in that sweetest of all songs of home going and college parting, "Dulce Domum," whose tender strains will remain long after these old walls are mingled with the dust of their builders:

Sing a sweet melodious measure,
Waft enchanting lays around;
Home, a theme replete with pleasure!
Home, a grateful theme resound!

Home, sweet home, an ample treasure!
Home, with ev'ry blessing crown'd!
Home, perpetual source of pleasure!
Home, a noble strain resound!

UPPER COUNTRY NEWS.

Game at Vernon—The New C. P. R. Boat—A Phenomenon.

From the Vernon News.]

Game must be pretty plentiful when a man in town kills blue grouse with a garden rake. One day last week a gentleman dispatched one off a verandah in town with the afore-mentioned weapon.

The new boat which the C.P.R. are putting on Okanhagan lake is to be 135 feet in length of keel, and will in all probability be ready for launching in March. Mr. Abbott went down to the lower country on Monday in the interests of the company, and will ascertain the volume of trade for the boat. Mr. Marpole and Mr. Holman accompanied him to Vernon, the latter gentleman going through with Mr. Abbott to the boundary.

On Sunday night a rather curious phenomenon was witnessed as the people were coming out of church. The moon had just risen, and outlined against a dark cloud in the west could be traced quite plainly a rainbow, though in it the varied colors in concentric bands that mark the usual rainbow produced by sunlight striking on raindrops, could not be discerned. In beauty of appearance the lunar rainbow is not a success when compared with the solar, but the rarity of the phenomenon makes up for it.

GOOD LAND UP NORTH.

A Surveyor Talks About the Northern End of Vancouver Island.

Mr. H. M. Burwell, of Vancouver, who has been surveying government lands in the northwest corner of Vancouver Island, talked thus about that country to the World:—The land is rolling and comparatively open, there being only clumps of pine here and there, except along the rivers and the coast. The land is of the usual character of glacial deposit, that is to say good and bad in spots—here good loam, there gravel, here a puddle, there a big boulder sitting by itself as if dropped out of a huge basket of rocks that someone had been toting off to dump into the sea. There is sufficient good, and fairly good, land to make it useful for grazing purposes. It has a drawback in that it is so wet. It is not a marsh or muskeg, but the pools of water are very numerous, and even in the dryest season they were so thick that in some parts it was almost impossible to find a spot to pitch a tent. The rolling nature of the ground and the frequency of outlets makes it comparatively easy to remedy this defect by drainage, which done the land is ready for use, there being no clearing to do, the clumps of scrub pine being sufficiently far apart not to be in the road, and at the same time being handy for various uses. Along what is now called Cache creek, which is really a river navigable by sloops or small tugs for two miles, the timber is heavy, and for five miles along it there is a fine black loam to a depth of from four to five feet. This, and the other creeks, abound in magnificent trout from one to three lbs. in weight. Throughout the country traversed there was very little game. A few traces of elk were found and two or three bears were seen along the coast. The grass throughout grows from six to seven inches long. At Fort Rupert it is similar and a herd of sheep there seemed to thrive well on it. While Mr. Burwell was in that vicinity a party of Indians just returned from sea otter hunting at Triangle island, came up Cache creek and reported that two white men on the island had made a rich find of gold. This story was afterwards partially confirmed and Mr. Burwell just gave it as he got it without wishing to be considered as vouching for the truth of it.

Catarrh in the Head.

Is undoubtedly a disease of the blood, and as such only a reliable blood purifier can effect a perfect cure. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best blood purifier, and it has cured many severe cases of catarrh. It gives an appetite and builds up the whole system.

Hood's Pills act especially upon the liver rousing it from torpidity to its natural duties, cure constipation and assist digestion.

The Fire Bell.

Shortly after the TIMES went to press on Saturday afternoon, an alarm of fire was turned in from box 31. A dense smoke issuing from the roof of the new brick block on the east side of Douglas street, between View and Fort streets, showed that a lively fire was in progress. The chemical engine was at work in a few minutes after the alarm was turned in, and, after a hard fight, the firemen succeeded in extinguishing the blaze, which was burning furiously beneath the roof of the Balmoral hotel. Fortunately the streams delivered by the steam engine were not used in the building and no damage was done by water other than wetting the hall way and stair carpet. A line of hose was taken up the stairway to the roof, but was not used, and the chemical boys worked along above the ceiling until the burning rafters and roof were completely out. The entire loss will not amount to $250, which is covered by insurance. A defective flue is supposed to be the cause of the fire, and the chemical engine was the means of saving thousands of dollars worth of goods in the various rooms and stores.

At 9 o'clock on Sunday night box 31 was turned in for a fire at No. 41 Broad street. The chemical engine was used on the fire and a few minutes work was all that was needed to save the buildings. The fire was caused by electric wires. Loss $5.

Mothers

Castoria is recommended by physicians for children teething. It is a purely vegetable preparation, its ingredients are published around each bottle. It is pleasant to the taste and absolutely harmless. It relieves constipation, regulates the bowels, quiets pain, cures diarrhœa and wind colic, allays feverishness, destroys worms, and prevents convulsions, soothes the child and gives it refreshing and natural sleep. Castoria is the children's panacea—the mothers' friend. 35 doses, 35 cents.

Every working man should purchase of Graham, Blue Front Store, at 148 Government street.

THE BAPTIST CONVENTION.

The New Westminster Conference Passes Another Day of Vigorous Action,

Discussion Upon the Liquor Traffic—The Missionary Field—Adjournment.

NEW WESTMINSTER, Oct. 14.—The convention convened at 9:30 to hear the committee's report on temperance. The report first called attention to the great importance of this question. Intemperance has grown to such gigantic proportions, has formed such dangerous combinations for carrying on the business known as the "rum traffic," and has its hands upon so many municipal and national corporations that the very existence of church, home and nation are being endangered. The committee next declared their belief that the solution of this problem is in the hands of the Christian church.

The committee on education reported that Grace Seminary had received a goodly number of pupils during the last year, 36 having taken a course in the art department, 65 for regular study and 77 in the musical department. The monetary success of the seminary had been greater than was anticipated, yet the growth of the institution had called for still greater financial help from the denomination. About $18,000 had been spent in erecting buildings, $9000 of which had been subscribed in cash and $9000 was expected to be realized from the sale of donated lands. The real estate depression had however prevented the sale of the lands, necessitating the negotiation of a loan for $9000, the interest of which is a heavy burden upon the seminary. Realizing the necessity for placing the educational institutions of their denomination upon a sound financial basis, the Rev. A. B. Bank, D.D., in May, 1891, was commissioned by the convention to go out to raise $20,000. There has been as the result of his efforts $21,856 in cash, notes and deeds of land, besides two scholarships of $500 each promised by the First Baptist churches of Boston and Worcester, and a promise from the education board of New York that for every $4000 raised on this field they would add $1000. The committee also reported that the Baptists of Seattle have received a donation of three hundred and fifteen acres estimated to be worth at present depressed prices about $40,000, and a cash subscription of $18,000. A building 60x100 has been erected containing 26 rooms, costing with furniture, $7000, as a girls' dormitory, and a beginning made with 10 pupils, as a preparatory school. The larger scheme of a university, it is hoped, will shortly follow. The land already donated at Vancouver was also ready for the erection of schools when funds were forthcoming.

Professor Trimble delivered a stirring address showing the necessity of Christian education. The discussion was continued by Rev. Grant, Banks, Rugg, Coombs, McEwen, Weer, Best and Goodwin, Judge Greene and Deacon Watkins. Meeting adjourned.

The Women's Missionary meeting convened at 2 p.m. Praise service, led by Mrs. Pride of New Westminster. Mrs. Beaven presented the secretary's report, which dealt very fully with the work, its needs and its results. Miss Malmberg addressed the meeting, giving an interesting report of her work amongst the foreigners on the Northwest coast. This was followed by an excellent paper by Mrs. C. E. C. Brown on the work of Miss Ames among the Chinese. Mrs. Schaffer of Seattle read a report of the work among the Indian tribes in the Northwest, which is rapidly becoming a feature of the Women's Home Mission work. A duet was rendered by two young ladies of the New Westminster church.

Mrs. J. A. Treiday, in presenting the report on Foreign Missions, spoke of her work in Burmah and read a letter from Miss Irvine of China, whose support is undertaken by the women of this convention. Miss Holden presented a paper prepared by Miss A. Hicks. Mrs. Spofford, of Victoria, read a most excellent paper on "The privileges of the women of this convention with regard to Foreign Missions."

Evening session convened at 7:30 p.m. with a praise service led by Rev. E. G. Wheeler. The foreign mission report was presented by Mrs. Greene, of Seattle. It said: If you take the statistics of the foreign missionary societies of the evangelical churches for 1890-1, the facts will bear out the statement just made. We have more than twice as many converts in heathen lands as any denomination. During this period we had twice as many additions to our churches as any other. While this is true, the Presbyterians, Congregationalists and Methodists contributed in amount nearly twice as much for this work as the Baptists. There is, therefore, great need for an awakening upon this subject of giving. A general summary of our work abroad is as follows: 74 stations, 417 missionaries, 2030 pastors and helpers, 1459 churches, 18,549 baptisms, 163,881 members. The income for the missionary union for the year ending March 31st, 1892, was $589,772 93. This in an increase of more than $100,000 over the year preceding. We want to raise $1,000,000 this year in appreciation of of the way in which God has blessed our work. Our convention gave for this work last year $1753.12, but this must be greatly exceeded this year.

Rev. J. Sunderland, in the absence of Rev. J. W. Read, whose father-in-law, Rev. Mr. Vaughan, died during the meetings of the convention, delivered an address on the Centennary Movement in Foreign Missions. He mentioned that the American Baptists were endeavoring to raise as a special offering to the funds of foreign missions $1,900,000. The English Baptists also were seeking to raisb this year $1,000,000. The special needs of Burmah, Telegu, Japan, China and Africa were then dealt with, and he said that 100 young men and women were needed specially for Foreign Mission Work.

Three addresses were then delivered on the subject of a Century of Missions, the first by Rev. W. C. Weir, of Vancouver, on "What it has Achieved." He argued that the past century had swept away the ridicule of Christians and others, the sceptism of nations, the suspicions of the heathen world, and the great barriers of unknown tongues. He traced the wonderful growth of the foreign mission work in the gifts of the Christian people. One century ago the sum subscribed for this purpose was $65 per year, this being the actual sum raised for the work in Carey's time, while last year the sum of $13,000,000 was raised by all denominations. Three persons left the first year of Christian missions to labor for God, whilst to-day 7700 laborers are to be found scattered among the different races of the world, besides 50,000 native helpers. Commerce, science and civilization were aided by the work of foreign missionaries.

Rev. C. F. Brownlee, of New Whatcom, delivered an address on "What it has taught us." Missions gave a clearer conception of what God intended in human redemption, that they taught in a clearer way than any statecraft or party politics could teach the brotherhood of humanity. Christian exclusives destroyed the very marrow of the religion of Jesus Christ. "Our neighbors" were to be found amongst all races, tribes and nationalities. The work of the missionary in foreign places tended towards peace and the cementing of the heathen tribes in mutual peace and concord. He instanced the wars of the United States with the Indians, which cost that country $500,000,000; every Indian slain cost $100,000, whilst the preaching of the cross brought peace, engendered kindly sentiments towards the white man and introduced a nobler method of dealing with the red man.

Rev. Roland Grant, of Portland, drew a comparison between the two and a half tribes of the children of Israel who wished to settle upon the near side of the river Jordan without fighting for the inheritance upon the other side, with those Christians who, having enjoyed the blessings of religion, were not earnestly desirous of extending those privileges to others. If the Baptists refrained from giving other nations the pure teaching of the New Testament Scriptures then no other denominations could do so with such clear hands.

NEW WESTMINSTER, Oct. 15—The convention was called to order this morning by the Vice President, Mr. W. Marchant, of Victoria, who opened the meeting with prayer. After some routine business, a deputation of the W.C.T.U. of British Columbia was presented to the convention. There secretary presented a neat fraternal address which concluded by soliciting the cooperation of the Baptists in their work, and suggested that the churches of the convention (1) use unfermented wine at the Lord's Table. (2) Teach a temperance lesson in the Sabbath school each quarter. (3) Give prominence to temperance literature in the Sabbath school libraries. The convention heartily reciprocated the sentiments of the address and unanimously passed a resolution to that effect.

The report on temperance was then presented by the chairman of the temperance committee Rev. C. F. Brownlee, of New Whatcom, which in a series of resolutions set forth the evil of the liquor traffic, in no measured terms, and the sinfulness of licensing a traffic which is so fraught with evil influences.

Prof. Trimble, of Grace Seminary, Centralia, followed the reception of the report in a comprehensive address, in which he set forth the hindrance that Christian work met in the liquor traffic, and advocated prohibition as the only real and permanent cure of this monster evil. Professor Trimble is the prohibition candidate for the U.S. Legislature for Lewes County, Washington. Rev. W. H. Shearman, of Olympia, gave an earnest address in the same line.

The reportof the Committee on Home Missions was presented by Rev. D. D. Proper, superintendent of missions on the coast. The society's missionaries represent fourteen nationalities, has expended $450,000, and supported 1000 missionaries, schools for freedmen and Indians numbering 27, which have 464 students for the ministry. Meeting adjourned.

The Young People's Union of the Northwest convention met at 2 o'clock, under the presidency of Mr. E. S. King. The enrolment of delegates showed that 31 representatives from the churches in New Whatcom, New Westminster, Victoria, Vancouver, Seattle, Tacoma, Puyallup, La Conner, Aberdeen and Ridgway.

The address of welcome to the Union by Mr. James James, President, of New Westminster, and responded to by Mr. E. S. King, President of the Union. The secretary reported that he had visited New Whatcom, Vancouver, New Westminster, La Conner and Victoria in the interests of the convention, and recommended that "Whereas the missionary board had voted the sum of $800 and travelling expenses towards the support of a district missionary, be it resolved that the union now represented be requested to raise $400 further towards their support. Rev. C. F. Brownlee moved the adoption of the report.

Rev. W. H. Shearman likened the Young Peoples' Union to those who went out upon the rivers of life, laying hold upon the driftwood, the flotsam and jetsam that was floating past, and using such for the glory of God and the good of humanity.

Father Cairns said that he never felt younger than he did that day, and felt more qualified as years rolled on to enter into the work and objects of the Young People's Union

Mr. W. Marchant, of Victoria, spoke of the ability of Young People's Unions for direct evangelizing work, and asked that young men and women consecrate themselves by training and prayer for the work of preaching and teaching the gospel.

Mrs. H. Spofford, of Emmanuel Church, Victoria, told how the Young People's Union of her church felt that the chief value of that organization was its educating influence.

The officers elected were, as follows: President, Mr. G. O. Smith; vice-presidents, Mrs. Spofford, Rev. W. O. Havelin; Rev. S. J. Cole, Rev. E. S. King; secretary, Rev. William H. Shearman; treasurer, Mr. A. Johnson; Rev. W. C. Weir, on behalf of a committee appointed for that purpose, presented a series of recommendations, which dealt with the frequent changes of pastorates among the ministers of this convention, pointing out the causes and the remedies for the same. As causes, were mentioned:

1. The heterogeneous character of the membership of the churches, coming as they do from all parts of the world, and therefore differing widely in views of truth and life and methods of work, etc, and never forming strong attachments to one another or to the pastors.

2. Hard times, making support difficult and tempting ministers to seek stronger fields; also leading the people, feeling the financial strain, to cast the blame therefor upon one another or upon the pastors instead of blaming the circumstances.

3. The failure of the ministers to appreciate the importance of small fields.

4. The failure of the churches to recognize and appreciate the importance and dignity of the Christian ministry, and the difficulties incident to their calling.

The remedies suggested were: On the part of its ministry more singleness of aim, that is, that they devote themselves wholly to the Gospel and not "entangle themselves in the affairs of this life." Separated wholly unto the Lord the ministry must be if this deplorable evil is ever to be overcome.

2. On the part of the churches (a) more heartfelt appreciation of the great difficulties and trials incident to the pastoral office. (b) Therefore more tender sympathy and love and prayer for the pastors. (c) More hearty cooperation with him in his work, thus endeavoring to bear a part of his hands. (d) A greater readiness to make willing sacrifices according to the peculiar needs of the times, thus bearing the burdens equally among them all, pastors and church members, and that they beware of the discontent and chafing which are so liable to bring about the dissolution of the pastoral relations.

At the evening session the committee on place and preacher reported in favor of Seattle as the place.

The report on Sunday Schools Publication Society and religious literature was presented by Mr. Marchant. Report adopted. Rev. E. G. Wheeler, Sunday school missionary and financial agent of the Baptist Publication Society, delivered an address on the work of the society on this coast. Rev. J. E. Coombs, of La Conner, followed up Mr. Wheeler's address, directing his thoughts particularly to the chapel car. Rev. A. B. Banks, D.D., dwelt upon the coming of Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler to Philadelphia in the chapel car. A second car is to be built. Many of the wealthy in the denomination have contributed largely towards the expenses of its building. Rev. M. W. Miller, colporteur, addressed the convention of his own work on the coast. A resolution was adopted recommending the churches to aid in the erection of the No. 2 chapel car. A resolution thanking the American Baptist Home Missionary Society for their generous help to this convention. Thanks were also tendered to the secular press for their full reports of the proceedings of this convention, and to the ladies and friends of the church at New Westminster and the members of other denominations for their generous hospitality on this occasion. It was ordered that the annual sermon be preached by Rev. C. W. Weir, alternate Rev. Mr. Goodwin, etc.

THE LITTLE ONES AT HOME.

THAT DREADED CROUP!

Have you a little one in the home who is subject to croup—one who takes cold easily and coughs frequently? If so, let us strongly advise you to procure at once a bottle of that celebrated Harvard Bronchial Syrup, a preparation which emanates from old Harvard University.

Harvard Bronchial Syrup has in the past saved the lives of hundreds of dear children when attacked by dangerous croup. The action of this grand cough remedy is so quick that any serious attack of croup can be easily overcome when the remedy is at hand.

Young children love it owing to its pleasant taste. We can, with faith and honesty, recommend it, because it is sure and certain, and perfectly pure and free from all dangerous narcotics. As far as perfection of manufacture and purity of ingredients are concerned, chemists say it stands far ahead of all others.

Mother, we earnestly commend it to your consideration; your child's life may depend upon one twenty-five cent bottle of Harvard Bronchial Syrup.

In Honor of Humboldt

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—The statue erected by the German citizens of Chicago in Humboldt Park, in honor of the famous naturalist, was unveiled yesterday under the auspices of the German Press Club with imposing ceremonies. Prior to the event there was a grand parade of all the German organizations in the city. Mayor Washburn delivered the address of welcome, and Hon. Max Henius an oration in German. The statue is of bronze, and represents the great scientist in a characteristic attitude, his left hand resting on a globe, while the right holds a tiny flower.

WALLED IN BY CORAL.

Natives Found on the Hidden Plateau of a Little Island.

A curious discovery has been made on the island of Kitaba, one of the Trobriand group, off the coast of New Guinea. A great many sailors passing this little island had imagined that it had no inhabitants, because they saw no evidences of human occupation. Sir William McGregor, the administer of British New Guinea, says the island has an area of only five or six square miles.

On all sides it presents a low and slightly sloping margin, usually about a quarter of a mile broad, covered with heavy timber. Within is a precipitous coral wall, which can be ascended only at a few places. The bank rises to a height of 300 to 400 feet. Once at the top the visitor finds within this wall a plateau which occupies the whole of the centre of the island, and is from 50 to 100 feet below the coral wall surrounding it.

There about 1000 natives live and till their gardens. The rich chocolate-colored soil yields them an ample supply of food. They are completely protected from the wind by the rocky rim that incloses their plateau. The island seems to have been an atoll which was lifted above the sea several hundred feet, so that the atoll ring now forms the coral wall surrounding the plateau. On this elevated and almost inaccessible plain are thirteen villages, each of which contains over twenty houses. Sir William McGregor says the natives gave him a most pleasant reception. He found it difficult to travel through some villages on account of the yams, cocoanuts, mats and other articles that were laid down before him for his acceptance. There are no inter-tribal hostilities, and it is not possible for the natives of other islands to oppress the people, because on their plateau, naturally fortified as it is, they are inaccessible to hostile tribes. The drainage of the plateau is excellent. There are great cavities in the coral wall, through which the rainfall filters and makes its way to the sea.

Beware of Lead Poisoning.

There may be a good deal of delusion about lead poisoning but one does not want to cultivate the habit of eating the heavy metal. Says an exchange: Adulteration is bad and sanitation good, but some of the results shown by vigilant inspectors and clever chemists in their efforts to show the frightful dangers that surrounds us and run down offenders against sanitary laws are very funny. A wholesale and highly respected grocer was tried in a London court a few days ago for selling tartaric acid adulterated with lead. The acid was used in making lemonade, and the lead in it got there from the vessels in which it was manufactured. The prosecution showed that the tartaric acid contained .00026 per cent. of lead. The defence showed that in order to get the twentieth part of a grain of the poison into one's system it would be necessary to drink lemonade every day for six months at the rate of 220 bottles per day. The experts added gravely that before the twentieth part of a grain could be taken in that manner the experimenter would die of dyspepsia. The charge was dismissed, but to satisfy the sanitary officials the judge agreed to "state a case," presumably as a warning to other evil-doers.

The Costliest of Books.

The most costly book in the world is the missal sent by Pope Leo X. to Henry VIII. of England at the time when the title defender of the faith was conferred on that much-married monarch. For a number of years the book remained crown property, but Charles II., who had little use for missals, gave it to the ancestor of the Duke of Hamilton, in whose family it remained until a few years ago, when the library of the Duke was sold at auction. The missal was purchased by the German Government, which paid for it in cash the enormous sum of $50,000. A much higher price than this, however, was once offered for a single volume. In 1512 Pope Julius II. was in need of money, and endeavored to borrow. He was at that time the possessor of a Hebrew Bible, which, for some cause, the Jewish people of Venice desired to purchase. They offered to pay its weight in gold for the book, which was so heavy that the united strength of two men could barely lift it. The book was weighed, and the estimate made of its weight in gold was $105,000. Julius deemed this sum inadequate, and declined to sell, so that the Vatican Hebrew Bible is justly entitled to the distinction of being the most valuable book in the world.

Shyness.

Our celebrated philosopher, Emerson, who was himself one of the shiest of men, delighted to tell of a man distinguished for humor in his writing who excelled him in this respect.

Said Mr. Emerson:

"This gentleman was so self conscious that he never got sufficiently alone to write a letter even to a friend without feeling that he was being observed.

"He left the city," proceeds Mr. Emerson, "in order to be away from its crowds.

"He hid himself in the woods. The solitary river was not solitary enough; the sun and moon put him out.

"When he built a house the first thing he did was to plant trees.

"He situated the house behind a forest of oaks, and immediately before the building he put a great wall of evergreens under the impression that they could hide him all the year round.

"The most agreeable compliment you could pay this man was to imply that you had not observed him in a house or a street where you had met him.

"While he suffered at being seen he consoled himself with the delicious thought of the great number of places where he was not."

A Second Crop.

Mr. D. R. Young has on view in his office a couple of strawberry plants with large ripe fruit on them. The fruit ripened in the open air at Mr. Young's residence, on Stanley avenue.
